EXPLANATIONS.

Main Touring Routes are printed on map in black and red, the numbers on the sides of routes in red are the route numbers, and refer to same route number in route book for description, etc. The numbers after each town named in route book give the distance in miles from the starting point. The local routes in black lines on map are not described, but are good routes, with but few exceptions. The fine yellow lines on map dividing the State into square blocks of 25 miles each way give a good idea as to distance.
